What's FERPA?

Did you know... the federal Family Education Rights and Privacy Act or FERPA (also known as the Buckley Amendment) gives all students the right to withhold addresses, phone numbers, and any other pieces of what would otherwise be considered "directory" information from the public domain. If you do not want your address, phone number or other elements of directory information to be publically available, go to the FERPA Rights and Record Privacy page in WebSTAC (after login) under Student Information to get more information and set your options.

At the top of the page click on 'Billing & Bear Bucks' and then choose 'Pay/View my bills' in the drop down.
